CAREFULNESS

In making mortgage loans has characterized The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio, from its beginning. This accounts for this large company owning AND no real estate. It has also loaned its money principally to the small home builder. Hence it has rendered a great service to the people. Its assets are now $4,900,000, and it pays five per cent on time deposits.

LOOK, READ, CONSIDER

The Knox County Agricultural So ciety desires to say to the people of the county that the county fair will positively open Tuesday, Sept. 12th, and continue four days. There will be no fakes of any kind on the grounds any day during the Fair. The Board has arranged for a clean line of amusements, exhibits, and a home-coming time for all.

There is nothing advertised but that which will positively take place. This is a County Fair in which everyone in the county should take pride and help to make it the best Fair ever held. The Board of Directors promise nothing but that which is in every respect wholesome and legitimate.

We feel that the people of the County should know the exact situation and conditions under which the County Fair is run. In the first place we want the people to know, and we think most of you do, that we own no grounds of our own, and that we are compelled to lease grounds upon which to hold our Fair, and the Board after considering everything very carefully, decided that Lake Hiawatha Park was the most desirable place to hold the County Fair, hence we have made a foolhardy to venture very high into the term of lease with the owners of the air in a machine which had been so Park for one week only, during Sephastily "slapped together" (as he extember in which to hold the Fair, and the Knox County Agricultural Society has no jurisdiction whatever over the ly tuned up the plane. Curzon Takes His Machine To A Pasture Field

But Arose Only Fifty Feet And Came Down

Crowd Of Thousands Of People Was Present

Disappointed At The Outcome Of The Affair

A crowd estimated at above 5,000 gathered Monday afternoon to see the first acroplane flight ever to occur in Mt. Vernon at Lake Hlawatha park. The plane itself was of the Henry Farman type, 35 ft. long by 45 ft. wide, containing an eight cylinder motor which developed from 60 to 80 horse power, torcing the plane into a maximum speed of 42 miles per hour. The frame work was of solid hickory, while tough but thin canvas furnished the covering.

A large crowd gathered around the machine and watched the tests that require considerable time. Then the the month, base ball game between the Grays and Utica started and the crowd moved away. The plane was moved to ing the total enrollment up to between the race track, the assistance of several bystanders enlicited and the machine was taken apart and moved to a large pasture field, which is situated at the last turn the car makes before reaching the park.

It was impossible to keep the crowd away and probably 2,500 people followed the machine to the pasture. The time from then on until six was occupied in putting the machine together again and when it was finally wheeled down to the northeast extremity of the field, loud cheers arose from the impatient crowd that had been waiting for nearly three hours.

Aviator Curzon ordered the people back, started his engine, took his seat and the wheels began to revolve These carried him along the ground for a distance of about a hundred yards and then he rose into the air His motor seemed to be working perfectly but still he did not mount higher. He flew for about five hundred yards at a height of fifty feet and descended. The plane was turned back again. When he alighted the second time, a large crowd gathered around him and began to chide him about his failure to make the proposed flight. Curzen, in a few words, explained that the park people had agreed to remove some trees by dynamiting so that he could fly from the park itself and that they had failed to do this. Therefore he had brought his machine up to Miller's pasture, hoping to be able to fly before dark, but his plans had gone awry in that he could not assemble his machine in so short a time. He stated that it would be pressed it) and that it would have tak. en several more hours to have proper-

Curzon, "I might fly a little tomorrow but it is rather doubtful as I have an engagement next week and must hurry

The crowd was evidently satisfied with Carzon's explanations and went away scemingly satisfied that he was at least in earnest.

The Electric Railway company, owners of the park, disclaim any responsibility for the failure to make the flight at the park. They deny that they were to remove any trees by dynamite or otherwise and state that it was not until 'way in the afternoon that they had any knowledge that there was not room enough in the field at the park to make an ascent, and that thereupon they used their en deavors to secure a large enough field in which to start the flight. Handed The Grays By The Strong Hiawatha Team

Second Game Of The Series Sunday Afternoon

Miller Pitched Great Ball For The Hiawathas

Three Hits

Large Crowd Saw The Contest On Sunday

The Hiawathas won the second and deciding game of the "world's series" from the Grays at Hiawatha park Sunday afternoon by the score of 8 to 0 before a crowd of 2,000 people, nearly half of which was composed of ladies. Outside of the second inning when the Hiawatha hitters got to Maul, the game was a strenuous one and excit-

Both teams were out after this game as could be seen from the start, and rooters for both teams were on the ground bright and early to help. Hun. dreds of megaphones were brought into play, and the roar which followed nearly every play could be plainly heard in the city, two miles away.

There was more betting on this game than on the previous one, and it is estimated that several hundred dollars changed hands. The prevailings odds were 20 to 15 with the Hiawathas the favorites.

Neither team scored; in the first. In the Hiawathas half of the second Sullivan lead off with a hit to left. Tanner was hit by a pitched ball. Mondron hit to center, Sullivan scoring, Whittington hit to left, Mondron scoring, and Miller popped to Pelton. The opening of the Parochial schools Schmidt made a nice stop of liger's grounder, but threw wild to first and Whittington scored from second. Vail for three bases, the spectators interfering with the fielding and Ilger scored. Vail scored on Popham's hit through short. Grubb popped to B. Smith and Sullivan did likewise.

In the seventh liger, first up, reached second on Popejoy's wild heave to first, was sacrificed to third by Vail, but was caught between third and home when F. Schmidt fielded Popham's sharp grounder home, and was run down. Popham went to second on the play and scored on Grubb's hit over second. In the eighth Tanner opened with a bounder to F. Schmidt, which the latter fielded to first. However Tunner sild in an effort to beat the threw and B. Smith dropped the summoned and an entrance was effectball in the collision. Mondron sacrificed Tanner to third and the latter scored when Maxwell misjudged Mil. the exception of the raised sash and ler's fly. Although the Grays threatened several times, there was nothing doing in the run line as Miller tightened in pinches. For the Grays the playing of F. Schmidt and the catching of Pelton were the features. F. Schmidt made two errors, but both were bad throws to first, made in a hurry after nice stops of grounders. He killel two of three nits by fine catches and stops. Pelton worked under difficulties as Maul was pretty wild at times, and caught a nice game. For the Hiawathat the pitching of Miller, a stop over third by liger and the catching of Popham were features. The score:
